

Jacob Craton Sanders (Horse Rope)

May 8, 1994 - October 31, 2025

Jacob Craton Sanders was born in San Diego, California, on May 7, 1994 — a time marked by the return of the sacred white buffalo. He was the beloved son of Gina LeClair and Jeremiah Sanders. During his high school years, Jacob lived with his grandparents, Sue and Richard LeClair, while attending Ramona High School, where he graduated in 2012.

From a young age, Jacob enjoyed school and playing sports. At the age of five, he accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior and was baptized into the Christian faith. He also embraced his cultural heritage, dancing at powwows and participating in the Sundance ceremony, where he received his Indian name, Horse Rope.

As well as training in MMA and playing video games, he loved the sunsets at the beach, and skateboarding. Jacob also dedicated his time to serving with various Christian ministries, where he led worship, inspired and supported others. He started his own business and was an aspiring mechanic.

Jacob's nature was humble, respectful, and kind. He was generous, always giving to others without expecting anything in return. He was loved by all who knew him. He had fortitude and was brave to stand up for what he believed in, which was his family and his faith in God.

On October 31, 2025, Jacob passed away. He was deeply loved and will be painfully missed but never forgotten. He is survived by his 3 sisters and 2 brothers, Anna Darosa, Kiera and Phoenix Sanders, Elio Myers, and Joey Darosa. He was loved greatly by his grandparents, Theodore and Evelyn Sanders, and Richard and Sue LeClair.
